

ANDOVER.

Several of our school districts, to break the monotony, have had their annual meeting, March 22d the voters of Beth No. 4 met at their school house and elected the following officers:

Moderator, John D. Newton; Clerk,

Andrew Abbott; Agent, Bill Cutting; Assessors, John D. Newton, and John D. Newton. The board is yet to be decided. Saturday, the 5th inst., the citizens in Dist. No. 1 held their meeting. S. W. Richards was chosen clerk and J. E. Akers, agent.

The skating rink has adjourned for the present. Reason—bad traveling.

The household goods of Mrs. Frank

Dresser were sold at auction last Thursday; Taylor Kidder, auctioneer.

Nearly all of the articles brought a good price.

Mrs. Frank Perkins died last Friday, after an illness of a few weeks. She was highly respected by all who were acquainted with her. She leaves a husband and two small children, besides many relatives and friends. Her funeral services were held at her late residence in South Andover last Sunday, attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Fred Rolfe of Rumford was in town last week and took the contract to build a new mill on the Spruce Knob river. He will begin operations as soon as the "river opens."

Mr. Reynolds is in town. He is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts. He is a number of years ago. Quite a number of people have the Western fever in Andover. We don't know in what direction it will lead them.

A Mr. Fuller has moved into the tenement recently occupied by Robt.

Hewley and family.

We understand the town house is about to receive a new coat of paint.

Mr. Sweet has rented the Newton house and moved there.

Sylvanus Poor, esq., one of our aged citizens, being eighty-seven years of age, is quite sick.

SWEDEN.

We have little in our small town worth mentioning at any time, but occasionally we find something worth mentioning. Your correspondent thinks he came across one of these occasional things in the inventory of the Hassell neighborhood adjoining each other. The second was formerly known as the

Col. Sanderson place with the N. C.

place added, now owned by Elbridge Stone. On these three acres we found eight pairs of oxen. Six pairs were seven feet three inches and upward, thick and well formed. The other two pairs are four years old of good size and make. We also found a bull calving, months old getting nearly five feet high, and hands as a model picture can be drawn. This calf is now in the hands of J. Jason Marc. There are other things worth mentioning. John Wilson has a barn full of them, and

Mr. M. Hamlin has four very pretty calves.

Chas. M. F. Noyes has on a bracket platform for the big load with a sounding board at its back. On the board, ranged one above the other in the form of a circle are twelve smaller platforms for lesser loads, all being varnished, and in part embossed with the names of the various netts, making a very beautiful curiosity.

There was a pound party of Mrs. H.

Sparks for the benefit of Rev. H.

Shaw, pastor of the M. E. church, last Sunday evening. Your correspondent was not present, but by all reports

he thinks there were more people of fun than anything else.

Frank Kimball died rather suddenly on Monday, March 28th. He was taken ill in the afternoon and died Friday morning. He is the son of Edmund

Kimball of this town. Something more than a year ago, brother Melville, next older, died in nearly the same way, although sick much longer. Within a few years two other children of the same family died rather suddenly. The disease that has carried all away was fever and inflammation of the stomach and bowels.

Wm. H. Kneeland has been in poor health for several weeks. He has considered for many years one of our best bodied men.

Benj. Woodbury, our post-master, and men in our town, are now in feeble health. Many of our people are severely afflicted with colds.

S. Jason Marc has a nice black mare, about seven years old, worth eleven hundred pounds. She is solidly built and handsome.

Good congregation in numbers at M.

E. church last Sabbath.

BUCKFIELD.

Arlington Mason has been taken to the Insane Hospital at Augusta by his select men. He has been deranged for a number of years but has been going free of late.

N. A. Traflet got home last night with two car loads of working oxen. If you are to buy cattle you should call on him at once.

The average man takes a little interest, perhaps, in the rifle shooting at Greedmoor and Walnut Hill, but it tickles him half to death when he makes a good shot with a stone at one of his neighbor's hens which has come into his yard.

J. W. Parker has put down a hard-wood floor in M. E. Crockett's millinery store, and other improvements have been made. The millinery was moved into the store recently vacated by Bicknell & Neal, while the repairs were in progress.

F. W. Lapham has received a flattering offer from the leading commercial artist of Norway, Me., to come to that place and work for a salary. Should Mr. L. see a good opportunity to set out his business here, he will accept the offer.—Pittsfield Advertiser.

A grand military reception drill and ball is in preparation by the Norway Light Infantry for April 30th. One or more visiting companies will be present besides many prominent officers. Full arrangements are not yet completed, but this promises to be the event of the season.

The man who will regularly read a borrowed paper, in order to save the expense of subscription to it, may be a very estimable citizen, but we should vote against his handling the collection plate in the church to which we belong.—Exchange.

 We advise all subscribers who are troubled with steady borrowers to cut out this paragraph before their paper goes to the other house, taking it for granted they can get it first themselves, then somebody else's paper must be borrowed to read the missing paragraph and the idea conveyed therein will be more fully comprehended.

It is reported that the Universalist Parish of this place has or is to tender a call to Rev. Miss Caroline Angell, of Pittsfield, to become the pastor of this society.

Mrs. Capt. Whitmarsh and daughter Lizzie are visiting in Massachusetts. They are to be absent for an indefinite length of time.

Rev. C. W. Stiles, Brooklyn, N. Y., has been on to visit his father, W. H. Stiles of this place, who is very low and not expected to live. Mr. Stiles will return to New York Saturday.

Stephen Greenleaf died at the residence of his son in Brighton last Saturday. His remains were brought here and interred in the family lot last Tuesday. Rev. Mr. Burbank officiating.

The Methodist church here will ask the coming Conference to assign them a pastor for this church independent of any other parish. The charge at present consists of the churches at South Paris and Norway.

The Bowdoin Quartette with Mrs. Ada Cary Sturgis gave a concert in Norway Hall last Saturday evening. There was a fair sized audience present, and the entertainment was one of the best that has been here this winter.

A full and choice line of groceries of all kinds at G. W. Holmes' store at the Falls. All goods bought delivered in the village. Leave your order at the store or with the driver of the wagon. Some of the best tea ever grown for sale at this store.

We waited up to the last minute of going to press expecting some one would bring in a notice of a religious service at one of the churches for Fast Day but as no such announcement is made, we will request all the people to patronize the skating rink, the same as they did last Thanksgiving Day.

Complaint is made that several articles of wearing apparel were stolen at the dance at the Elm House last Friday evening. A nice ostrich feather was out from a lady's hat, rubbers, handkerchiefs and a lady's doberman were stolen. The evidence points strongly to a certain party who is expected to be put under arrest.

Geo. H. Whitehouse is ready to do all kinds of job teaming. He is well and favorably known in the village and we bespeak for him a generous share of the patronage. Orders for the present may be left at F. H. Noyes' store. See ad. His prices for work are reasonable. Give him a trial.

Geo. F. Andrews has sold his interest in the St. Hyacinth scrap leather evaporator and returned to Norway. He has purchased C. F. Jackson's interest in the grease business here. Mr. Jackson is to retire and the business will be conducted by Andrews & Horne.

"James Franklin Blood Day" will make the season at the stable of E. S. Hammon at Norway Lake commencing May 1st. This young and promising stallion is of good style and action and is well bred as a reference to his pedigree will show. For particulars call on or address the owner E. S. Hammon.

Mr. Clark has been in the boot and shoe business here well up to a third of a century, and he is a young man still. This leads us to call attention to his nice fitting, easy and comfortable new boot for ladies called the "Flexible," also the patent Day Sewed boot. You should become acquainted with these boots by calling and examining them at Mr. Clark's store. See ad. for the $2.00 boot for ladies.

The Sunday afternoon temperance meetings are about as usual with perhaps a little more so. A very large audience was out last Sabbath. President Whitman read a chapter or so from a standard temperance text book. A strong and sensible speech was made by Rev. T. T. Merry of Auburn. Miss Carrie Farrow sang and Asa True played the cornet. "Plain Jim" Grant made a characteristic address commingled with temperance, sobriety, wit, wisdom and drollery. He didn't claim it to be one of his "good speeches," but it would pass for such. A. B. Chase related several romantic stories that pointed a moral. There will be some good speaking and singing next Sunday. The public are invited.

The following is the volume of business done on the Norway Branch for the last three months ending March 31: Number of loaded cars received 302; the number sent out loaded 382; empty cars that came in 154; empty ones sent out 74; making a total of 912 cars. 5,499 tons of freight have been moved over the road during the time. For the same time last year the number of loaded incoming cars was 291; same outgoing 238; total 629 against 912 for this year, hence a gain of 283 cars of freight over the corresponding time last year. 4,196 tons of freight were moved for the first three months of last year, hence an increase here over last year of 1,293 tons. Evidently we are doing more business this year.

Joseph Robinson, agent and largely owner of the factories at Oxford, Me., employs 400 hands. He will be remembered by the middle-aged and older people as having lived here a number of years ago, being employed as a dyer at the mills. He lived in the house now owned by John W. Sanborn on Elm street, and used to say he never was so happy as when he saw his dead wife and fourteen hearty children seated around the table at meal time.—Rochester, N. H. Courier.

J. U. P. Burnham has been forty years of a photographer's life. The changes in the art of picture making in that time have been marvellous. The change in time of sitting has been from seven minutes to a half a second or less. He uses the instantaneous process. Within the last four years Mr. Burnham has made over 50,000 pictures. Burnham is an excellent workman, and those in want of pictures can do no better than to call on him.

Mrs. C. K. Smith on Whitman St. has birds and a splendid lot of plants for sale. Those in want will do well to call and see them. Twenty different kinds of geraniums, holly, fuchsias, ivy heliotrope, passion vine, oxalis, blue plant, most of them in blossom.

The spring term of the three schools occupying the central building in Union district will commence on Monday next, 8 inst. The Grammar department will be in charge of Miss Gertrude J. Teague, of Norway, Me. Miss Teague is a graduate of our State Normal School, and comes to us with the approbation of that institution, and the most satisfactory recommendations otherwise. She has had good experience as a teacher.—The N. H. Argus and Spectator.

It requires a philosopher to get any quiet enjoyment out of a sleighride on bare ground; most people express their misery in every movement. One sets his face and holds his breath, just as he does when he has a dose of medicine before him, the eyes are strained looking out for a friendly patch of snow, and the squeaks and scratches sent one's teeth on edge. It is a study at this season of the year to notice how different persons take it. The sleigh does good service until they strike town, then it requires about as much ingenuity to navigate their craft to the best advantage as to handle a schooner in a gale. One man puts on an air of bravado as though snow and bare ground were all the same to him; another man assumes an air of placid resignation, as if life was no longer worth living; the man of strong sense and resolution will run onto all the snow he can find and takes the shortest cut across the bare spots; but one and all feel relieved when both runners are safely planted on snow and the rasping, grating agony is over with.

The annual Corporation meeting will occur at Engine Hall next Monday evening at 7 o'clock. All the voters are requested to come out and take part in the deliberations. The usual articles are in the warrant. Among others is one to see what action the corporation will take in building reservoirs or furnishing water for fire purposes. Water is desirable as a protection against fire. How well our village is supplied with it for fire purposes we are unable to say, but we venture the remark that there is none too much, and the matter of a better supply might well be discussed. We would suggest that the corporation should hire money at a low rate of interest and put in a system of water works. Rightly managed and handled it could be done and not materially increase our taxes. Fryeburg has set us a good example. We understand that the water system recently put in is a paying investment. Good judges say—and we mean by this—those who have investigated it, that Norway can be supplied with water from Hobbs' Pond at a cost not to exceed that of the Fryeburg water works. Why not do something? It can't help paying and would be a great protection to the village against fire. It would reduce our insurance rates and not increase our taxes. Whatever may be done, our fire company is needed and should receive the hearty response and co-operation of our citizens. Something should be done to protect us from fires. Let us build not for a day, but for a generation. This subject should be agitated and something done ere it is too late.

Don Speaks.
Brooklyn, April 7th, 1884.

DEAR OVERSEAS.—After seven years of hard fighting the enemies of the Norway High School have triumphed, and the system built up at much expense and at the expense of the town is now to be relegated to the rank of one-horse town schools. Were one to even intimate that Norway was a one-horse town, you there would be a vast weeping and wailing, yet if it is the survival of the fittest, "mono-hippie" would seem to be the proper characterization. While the High School boys were in force here and work is now to be relegated to the rank of one-horse town schools, we are to be scattered from Maine to California seeking ever-declining fortune, it is not to be wondered that men who had no education at the school and precious little anywhere else, should at last accomplish its destruction. The old academy which they put on the garb of mourning as it did one memorial morning in the prospect of a like result, some years ago.

The abolishing of the school will have one advantage. It will eliminate the problem of building a new school house from the catalogue of village woes and decrease the tax collector's percentage. Then too the poor laborer, for existence who voted the thing down, will no longer be compelled to bear the direful and enormous school tax such as they have borne for so many years. True those same laborers, who have been in Norway with making this nothing to do with it, the inhabitants of the (alleged) "most enterprising village in Old Oxford" are to be scattered, and the village fact that the animal is neither white nor sacred, the elephant is all that can be desired. He is of middle size, with white coat, a proboscis of the same color as J. N. Small's, and terminates with a beautiful tail. The Burmese who accompany this marvel of the age and pound out soothing agony to his majesty are a cheap looking lot of niggers.

Spring has come. That is the styles have, and if the winter has not kept up with the procession it is not the fault of the shop-keepers or milliners.

With sorrow almost too deep for expression I note the tendency of your South Paris correspondents to irreverently mock the efforts of the efforts I am fain to agree with the opinion of the esteemed Watkins, that "these frocks, aprons, young ladies ought to be suppressed." D. C. S.

Sunday afternoon, Anna Buzzell of Hudson, was driving along the road near the Kenduskeag, where the water had overflowed the road to the depth of half a foot. The horse started throwing the woman out into deeper water which was running very rapidly and she was drowned. The horse was also lost.

The workmen in C. P. Emery's shoe shop, Seco, some eighty in number, left their work, Monday morning, on account of the dangerous condition of the building which has been pronounced unsafe and liable to fall at any time.
